- p) “It is reported that Jakob Bohme never committed to writing his most remarkable experience: While working at his cobbler’s bench in Gorlitz he suddenly became exhausted and fell asleep. He then found himself in an amphitheater of infinite proportions, seated among a vast throng consisting of all The Believers from every time and place. Each one had a stein of ale and shouted for joy while the enemies of the Gospel were bound with chains of fire and their eyes and bowels were ripped out by ravenous devils. An angel sat down next to him and while handing him a full stein, asked how he liked the entertainment. Bohme replied, ‘It’s alright, but I was hoping for something a little more; intense.’ The angel then said, ‘Jakob, we have an infinite number of pleasures here, each one stronger than the last, but you were impatient and wanted to see Heaven before dying. This is the only one you can understand.’”

(δ) "And here it should be noted that a prince ought never to make common cause with one more powerful than himself to injure another...for if he wins you rest in his power, and princes must avoid as much as possible being under the will and pleasure of others." (ibid, pg.112)

- I) Plenary – See: (44y) (52e) (57q)
- II) Talent, etc – Based on the notion that Bekah is smaller than Shekal, and is in the same proportion to it that all the others are, the total weight is 223381 Bekah. These are ancient Sumerian weights and measures
(http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ancient_Mesopotamian_weights_and_measures)

- (α) Another way:
- 1 Talent = 60 minae (“Table of Weights and Measures.” NIV, pg. 881.)
 - 1 Mina = 50 shekels (ibid)
 - 1 Shekel = 2 Bekas (ibid)

(β) Therefore: Total weight = 6207 bekas, which would equal to about 1241.4 ounces (77.5875 pounds) or 34138.5 grams (34.1385 kilograms) (ibid)

Nota bene: the Revisionists are relying upon cybernetic applications of the Garman-Kohlhagen model and will consequently generate an erroneous volatility risk premium, thereby inducing in modo loquendi an intraventricular hemorrhage which will not really be perceived due to the predictive uncertainty of the “forward premium puzzle.” Full implementation of the immediately foregoing will depend upon extraction of the fourth root from the visuognosis presented supra. Those appointed to the task should proceed with all deliberate haste to the target as both the Pigs and the Hirelings repose an amusingly moronic confidence in conclusions drawn by the inferential equivalent of a jury de medietate linguae. c) As previously communicated via [“the low-grade, small-bore decadence found chiefly among liberal Republicans and ritual killers”], there has been a Third Level Penetration by the cursed Revisionists (videte: St. Luke 9:62). The Little Orphan Children and The Midget Tag Team are unanimous in refusing to guarantee the structural integrity of the “levees” against a “Category 5” assault by the Pelagian devils.
